

Back pain and back injuries

Back pain and back injuries account for about one in six days lost to ill health in the UK. In order to reduce the incident rate caused by manual handling, we have been piloting the use of new specialised lifting equipment and lighter weight materials, and now insist on the use of mechanical lifting devices when handling heavy materials.